Sir:

This is in pursuance of the telephone interview this afternoon graciously granted Applicant's attorney by Supervisory Patent Examiner Nadine Norton and Examiner Mahmoud Dahimene. Applicant wishes to express his appreciation for having been offered an opportunity to discuss what he considers to be mainly linguistic changes sought to be introduced by his previous amendment and regrets that it was not possible to overcome Examiner Dahimene's holding of applicant's previous changes having introduced new matter. Applicant's attorney accordingly requested that the changes which were to be entered by his amendment of 23 November 2006 and alleged by Examiner Dahimene to introduce new matter be ignored, and sought leave to address this matter in a new submission.

Applicant's attorney does, however, deem it appropriate to repeat his request for certain changes to the originally submitted translated specification as hereafter set forth. To the extent these changes relate to formal matter, they aim at putting the specification into a format believed to comply with American patent prosecution standards. A few other changes clearly and unambiguously relate to the elimination of typographical and syntactical errors.
